Library Policy:

NEFRL can accept or reject any research requests.

Depending on available staff, it may take up to a few months to fulfill a request.

(If an email or phone number are provided, we will keep you informed.)

Requests must not exceed “fair use” limits.

Permission is granted for personal use and research purposes.

Permission is NOT granted for publishing, unless stated by the library director.

IF permission is granted for publishing:

– NEFRL will never grant exclusive rights for publication.

– NEFRL does not surrender its own right to publish the material or surrender its right to grant permission to others to publish it.

– NEFRL does not assume any responsibility for copyright infringement or any publication rights held by others.

– NEFRL requests that “Naturist Education Foundation Research Library” be added to the credits for the content.

– NEFRL requests a complimentary copy of the final publication if it makes significant use of NEFRL materials, within a reasonable amount of time after publication.

If you’re intending to re-publish some of what you’re requesting, tell us about your project. Or, simply tell us what your interest is with this material:

Standard statement as required by law:

The copyright law of the United States (title 17, United States Code) governs the making of photocopies or other reproductions of copyrighted material.

Under certain conditions specified in the law, libraries and archives are authorized to furnish a photocopy or other reproduction. One of these specific conditions is that the photocopy or reproduction is not to be "used for any purpose other than private study, scholarship, or research." If a user makes a request for, or later uses, a photocopy or reproduction for purposes in excess of "fair use," that user may be liable for copyright infringement.

This institution reserves the right to refuse to accept a copying order if, in its judgment, fulfillment of the order would involve violation of copyright law.
